ICCA Business Partners:

Introduction

With the release of the 2013 country and city rankings ICCA is reporting another year of continued strength in the international association meetings market.

11,685 regularly occurring association meetings which rotate between at least three countries were identified by ICCA members and ICCA's in-house research team as having taken place during 2013, 535 more than identified a year previously.

It shouldn't be surprising that our 2013 figures have demonstrated the strength of the international association meetings sector, since the overall picture for our industry is significantly better than has been the case for quite some time. But it should be remembered that this is a sector that has shown significant growth in every single year since the financial crisis hit the world economy in 2008. The international association meetings sector is a solid, reliable performer, in good times and bad, and the longer term trends are the most critically important factors when preparing strategic plans and investment decisions. I am convinced that every serious meetings destination, internationally ambitious venue, and forward-thinking meetings management company should include international associations in their marketing and development strategies.

2013 top 10 countries: Some small changes

The top 10 country ranking is made up of the same countries as last year, but some countries switched places. The U.S.A., Germany and Spain remain respectively 1st, 2nd and 3rd. The gap between U.S.A. and Germany has become significantly smaller though; from a difference of 184 meetings in 2012 to 107 in 2013. France and United Kingdom have switched places: France is now 4th and United Kingdom 5th. Italy remains 6th. Japan climbs one place to number 7 and China-P.R. climbs two places to number 8, at the cost of Brazil, dropping from 7th to 9th place, and The Netherlands, dropping one place to number 10.

2013 top 10 cities: Paris new number one

Vienna, which has been the number one city in the ICCA rankings each year since 2005, has lost its 1st place to Paris, which was 2nd last year and previously shared 1st place with Vienna in 2008. Madrid, 4th in 2012 is now 2nd and Vienna 3rd. Barcelona climbs one place to 4th and Berlin moves from 3rd to 5th place. Singapore remains 6th and London fell from a shared 6th place to 7th. Istanbul climbs one place to 8th and Lisbon and Seoul, both newcomers in the top 10, share 9th place.

"A modern history of international association meetings 1963-2012"

As part of ICCA's 50 year anniversary a special 50 year edition of its international association meetings Statistics Report "A modern history of international association meetings 1963-2012" has been published in September 2013. This report shows that the number of regularly-occurring, internationally-rotating association meetings is increasing by 100 per cent every 10 years, and has been consistently doing so for the last half century, with no signs of a slowdown. The report is publicly available on www.icca50.com.

ICCA Introduction

ICCA, the International Congress and Convention Association, was founded in 1963 at a time when the meetings industry was beginning to expand rapidly. Now, with almost 1,000 member companies and organisations in over 90 countries worldwide, it is the most global association within the meetings industry and one of the most prominent organisations in the world of international meetings. ICCA membership comprises leading companies and organisations specialising in handling, transporting and accommodating events.

ICCA's research department collects information on international association meetings. This information is available to ICCA members only, through an online database (<http://www.iccaworld.com/cdps/cditem.cfm?nid=4027>). ICCA also functions as a platform for ICCA Members to share their expertise and marketing channels on the corporate meetings market.

ICCA Statistics Report for non-members

This publication is produced for associations, press, students and universities, consultants, and other potential ICCA members. The full ICCA Statistics Report is a member-only benefit. We have created this abstract to give non-members access to the country and city rankings, and provide background information on ICCA, the ICCA Association Database and ICCA Membership benefits.

Associations: ICCA Association Portal

ICCA has developed the ICCA Association Portal as a unique online platform for Association Executives, providing them with a safe environment where Association Executives can get in touch with peers and get advice on how to organise efficient meetings.

The Association Portal offers:

- Contact details of other Association Executives who have organised meetings in a destination you are considering for your next meeting.
- Possibility to update your meeting information we hold in our database to ensure tailored proposals from ICCA members.

- Access to advice publications, case studies on cutting-edge international association meetings, and other resources that can assist you in all areas of event management.
- Access to top suppliers from all branches of the meetings industry world-wide at your fingertips.
- Overview of upcoming meetings industry events, with possibilities to apply to attend as a "Hosted Buyer".
- Advice on your bid document – whether you already have a bid document for your event or are considering compiling one, ICCA is happy to review it and make suggestions where and if needed.

If your meeting rotates at least between 3 countries, occurs regularly and attracts a minimum of 50 participants then you can apply to join the Association Portal.

To register for the ICCA Association Portal and for more information on any of the above benefits please visit the ICCA website:

www.associations.iccaworld.com or contact Ksenija Polla, CMP at kсенija@icca.nl.

Press: how to use this report

As press you are free to use the data in this report for your articles, as long as you mention ICCA as the source and www.iccaworld.com as a reference.

Please note that we would appreciate it if you could send us a copy of the article in which ICCA is mentioned for our PR records.

Please do not hesitate to contact Mr. Mathijs Vleeming at ICCA Head Office for more information on ICCA or the ICCA Statistics: mathijs@icca.nl.

You might be interested to know that ICCA member press not only receive this sort of info earlier and automatically, but have all kinds of other benefits, and especially the opportunity to build strong long term relationships with the ICCA members who are some of the biggest buyers of advertising space and direct mail services from media companies. If you would like to know more we would be pleased to discuss your business objectives and let you know how ICCA could help once you are on the "inside".

ICCA Introduction

For more information about ICCA membership please contact Patricia Soen at ICCA Head Office: pat@icca.nl.

Students and Universities

ICCA is always interested to learn about studies performed on the international meetings market. As a student, you are free to use the data in this report for your research, as long as you mention ICCA as the source and www.iccaworld.com as a reference.

Please do send us a copy of your research regardless of whether you have used ICCA statistics or not, as ICCA is always interested in collecting all current research on the international meetings market and showcasing it during its annual Congress.

ICCA is committed to educating young professionals in the meetings industry via the ICCA Education Fund. We have therefore developed a special scholarship programme for ICCA member universities, giving the ICCA University members the opportunity to create new competitive advantages over their non-ICCA-member universities.

Each of the Scholarships includes the following benefits for the students:

- Complimentary registration to the ICCA Annual Congress - gives entry to all education and networking events.
- Full coverage of travel (economy class) and accommodation costs (university and/or students must cover any additional expenditure).
- "Behind the scenes" briefings with ICCA Congress-organising staff, to understand how the congress runs and what ICCA aims to achieve.
- Customised briefing on how to get the best out of the Congress.
- Personalised mentoring during the Congress by industry professionals.
- Opportunity to post research papers on the ICCA Congress website.
- Place CV at Student Scholarship Corner during Congress.

- Inclusion in the Facebook group specifically designed for scholarship students, where various information like potential job offers etc. are regularly posted.
- Speaking opportunity at the ICCA Congress during one of the education sessions.

Check if your University is an ICCA member in the ICCA Membership Directory Online. If you think that ICCA would be a valuable benefit to your University please contact Patricia Soen at ICCA Head Office: pat@icca.nl.

Consultants and other potential ICCA members

All non-member organisations are free to use the data in this report, as long as you mention ICCA as the source and www.iccaworld.com as a reference.

There are three options open to gain access to the complete ICCA statistics reports:

1. Join ICCA

If your company is regularly involved in studies and consultancy with regard to the international meetings market, it will almost certainly be cost-effective for you to join ICCA. The membership will enable your staff to access both the statistics reports and also to conduct tailor-made studies of our live database, as well as opening up valuable networking channels with the leaders of the international meetings industry, who are potential future clients.

Organisations belong to ICCA:

- To win more international business
- To improve their professional standards
- To enjoy excellent industry networking
- To learn from their peer group and
- To gain credibility

The next step is up to you!

If you wish to be part of this growing professional body, to improve your chances of increasing your business, or learn more about the industry you are in, then you should visit the ICCA Website: www.iccaworld.com or immediately apply for the full Member Information Pack from Head Office.

ICCA Introduction

You will be sure to find an enthusiastic welcome and an answer to any questions you may have.

Remember that being a successful ICCA member is about involvement. The greater the part you play within the association the greater your rewards. Again ICCA staff will be pleased to show you how you can raise your profile and increase your success.

For more information about ICCA membership please contact Patricia Soen at ICCA Head Office: pat@icca.nl.

2. Sub-contract work to or partner with ICCA member consultants

There are a number of specialist meetings industry consultancy companies in ICCA membership, who are frequently involved in major project research and advice. They not only have access to our data and reports, but can provide invaluable specialist knowledge on the industry and client requirements. They frequently provide services for non-specialist consultancy companies.

A listing with email contact details is shown below; however please note that many other ICCA member companies may get involved in occasional ad hoc consultancy work in addition to their core business.

ICCA Introduction

3. Work with ICCA members based in the city/country where you are conducting your research or consultancy project.

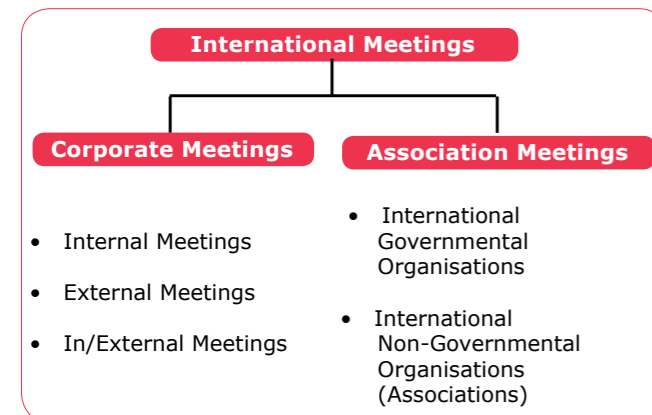

There are almost 1,000 member companies and organisations in over 90 countries worldwide, representing all the leading players in the international meetings field. It is probable that one or more are already key stakeholders in the projects you are working on. If this is the case, they will be able to provide access to the reports, on either a complimentary or paid-for basis. You can search for members in the public sections of the ICCA website, www.iccaworld.com, or we can provide advice on who to contact if you give us more information on your project, client, and partners.

The International Meetings Market

Segmentation

The international meetings market can be segmented in many different ways. It can be segmented by the size of the meetings, by the kind of people who visit the meetings, by the purpose of the meetings and by many more criteria.

However, the main criterion a supplier uses to segment the market is by the initiator of the meeting. The initiator determines what kind of meeting is organised and the kind of supplier services needed. When segmenting the international meetings market by initiator, two primary markets can be defined: the corporate market and the non-corporate market. The latter consists of international governmental organisations and international non-governmental organisations or associations.

ICCA's area of expertise is in the international association meetings market, but it also assists ICCA members to share knowledge on the other segments.

Characteristics of the association market

The association market covers a wide range of meeting types and categories: medical meetings (the largest segment); scientific; other academic; trade organisations; professional bodies; social groupings. In terms of size, budget, duration and complexity there are massive variations between and also within categories. However, some similarities can be identified:

- Almost every 'specialty' has an association which holds one or more meetings.
- Most associations have meetings that are repeated at regular intervals. These can be annual, biennial etc.
- The destinations rotate. They rarely return to the same destination within a very short time-span.
- The initiative to host a meeting often comes from the local counterpart, e.g. the national association. If that body is difficult to motivate to organise the meeting, the chances are high that the meeting will be scheduled elsewhere.
- Association meetings have a very long lead-time; it is not unusual to find lead times of 5 years or more.
- It is estimated that a growing minority of about 25-30% of the decision-making processes no longer include an official bidding procedure, but have a "central initiator" who selects the location and venues based on pre-determined and strict criteria.

It is estimated that there are approximately 24,000 different association meetings organised on a regular basis. The ICCA Association Database has collected information on approximately 80% of them.

The International Meetings Market

International association meetings: bidding and decision-making

An essential guide for any international association wishing to improve their bidding or decision-making methodology! The aim of this publication is to assist international associations in improving their selection process and to become more conscious of the large number of variables that have to be taken into account in order to make a professional decision.

This publication is available to ICCA members via the ICCA member only section as well as to Association Executives via the ICCA Association Portal. Find out more on: <http://www.iccaworld.com/cdps/cditem.cfm?nid=4089>

Other sources of information on international meetings

The international meetings market is also analysed by the UIA (Union of International Associations). However, the criteria of the UIA meetings differ from the criteria ICCA uses.

UIA

For the purpose of its annual statistics, "international meetings" are defined by the UIA to include either one or both of the following criteria:

A) Meetings organised or sponsored by International Organisations that are included in the UIA's Yearbook of International Organisations

and
With at least 50 participants, or number of participants unknown.

B) Meetings not organised or sponsored by "International Organisations" but nonetheless of significant international character, notably those organised by national organisations and national branches of international organisations

and
At least 40 percent of the participants are from countries other than the host country and at least 5 nationalities are represented
and
Lasting at least 3 days, or unknown duration

and
With either a concurrent exhibition or at least 300 participants

C) Meetings not organised or sponsored by "International Organisations" but nonetheless of significant international character, notably those organised by national organisations and national branches of international organisations

and
At least 40 percent of the participants are from countries other than the host country and at least 5 nationalities are represented

and
Lasting at least 2 days, or unknown duration
and
With either a concurrent exhibition or at least 250 participants

All meetings counted under the heading 'B' are also counted under the heading 'C'. The reverse is, equally logically, not true.

Excluded from UIA figures are:

- Purely national meetings, as well as those of an exclusively religious, didactic, political, commercial or sporting nature
- Meetings with strictly limited participation
- Corporate and incentive meetings.

Whilst there is a considerable overlap between the events considered by ICCA and UIA for their statistics, the most important difference from a marketing point of view is that UIA's events include those which are held in a fixed location, whereas all of ICCA's events must rotate between at least three countries. UIA category "A" also includes intergovernmental and transnational meetings (eg. EU and UN institutions).

Please note that since early 2010, ICCA has a data collaboration with UIA: 5,000 regularly occurring meetings within the ICCA Association Database have been enhanced through access to supplementary UIA data.
